Genetics Of Humor

We don’t make science jokes all the time, just periodically. We’re looking for the genetic source of these jokes:

- 1. Do I think I’m losing my electrons?
- 2. I’m reading a book on anti-gravity.
- 3. A physicist and a biologist have a relationship.
- 4. The photon, asked why there was no luggage, said,
- 5. My science puns are bad, because all the good ones
- 6. When I try jokes on Helium,
- 7. You can’t trust atoms,
- 8. How Oxygen’s date with Potassium went:
- 9. When are multiplication and division the same?

- a. Argon.
- b. I can’t put it down.
- c. He doesn’t react.
- d. They make up everything.
- e. There’s no chemistry.
- f. In cellular biology.
- g. It was OK.
- h. I’m positive.
- i. I’m traveling light.

Paper Products

Paper products at the grocery store use the strangest math I've ever seen. Can you decipher this shopping list?

10 Giant rolls, 2 Super Mega rolls, 1 Regular roll, 2 Mega Plus rolls, 7 Double rolls, 15 Large rolls, 2 Huge rolls, 16 Big rolls, 5 Mega rolls.
